We plan on implementing short weekly sprints, where each task for that sprint will be divided among team members. This plan will enable our team to create smaller and more feasible objectives to complete throughout the project. Our hopes are that this will keep each member on top of the project as everyone has a small responsibility each week. With this in mind, our timeline should be as follows:

- Week 1: all start working on the homepage (not logged in) in HTML for first critique and create a basic database in MySQL
 - Look into PHP
 - MySQL layout
 - Start design and development of front end
- Week 2: Divvy up the Trello Event tasks
- Week 3: Divvy up the account tasks and database design tasks
- Week 4: Refine Home page, and account page Connect all pages to the database if not already
- Week 5: Implement search page
- Week 6 (Fall Break): Finish work as needed
- Week 7: Work on presentation and polish website
- Week 8: Present
